

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with John Sanders on January 27, 2009.

The application has been amended as follows:

49. A [program product] computer readable recording medium storing a program for causing a server device receiving electronic mail to function as a data converter, said server device including a memory portion storing data, the [program product] computer readable recording medium causing said server device to perform the steps of: converting data included in a file attached to said electronic mail, wherein the step of converting data includes the steps of converting said data included in said file into data represented in a first predetermined data format, and converting said data included in said file into data represented in a second predetermined data format; storing to said memory portion said data represented in said first and said second data formats that are generated as said data are converted; and transmitting said data represented in said first and said second data formats that are generated by conversion of said data, wherein said data represented in said first data format includes data representing a list of said converted file or said data generated through conversion, said data represented in said second data format is an image generated by conversion of said file, and the step of storing stores to said memory portion said data representing said list and said image in association with each other.

51. A [program product] computer readable recording medium storing a program for causing a portable communication terminal to function as a display device, said portable communication terminal being capable of transmitting and receiving data to and from a server device for which the [program product] computer readable recording medium as recited in claim 49 is executed, the [program product] computer readable recording medium causing said portable communication terminal to perform the steps of: receiving, from said server device, data represented in said first data format; displaying a list of said file based on received data; selecting at least one file from said displayed list; receiving, from said server device, data represented in said second data format; downloading, from said server device, data represented in said second data format that corresponds to said selected file; and displaying an image corresponding to said file based on said downloaded data.

53. The [program product] computer readable recording medium according to claim 49, further wherein the list of said converted file or said data generated through conversion is a list of converted portions of the file attached to said electronic mail, and wherein the image generated by conversion of said file is comprised of a plurality of images each corresponding to a respective portion of the file.
